LOCAL GAS WORKS HAS COAL ENOUGH TO LAST TWO MONTHS

The Kingston Gas and Electric Company is not anticipating any difficulty in continuing to supply its customers with the full and regular gas service as in the past. Early in the year the company purchased and stored large amounts of coal, and although the coal strike has been in effect for fifteen weeks the company has at least a two months' supply of fuel stored in the various plants here.

It is expected that the general shortage of coal due to both the railroad and coal strike will have the effect of causing a greater use of gas for fuel. It was with this in view that the company has taken steps to keep on hand an adequate coal supply to keep the plant in operation.

In another column of The Freeman this evening will be found an advertisement of the Kingston Gas and Electric Company addressed to the users of gas in the city, in which is set forth the steps taken by the company to insure an adequate supply of gas for consumption here during the present crisis.

WATTS BUYSTURCK LUMBER YARD SITE YALLUM BUYS MASONIC BUILDING

Property Extends From Strand Opposite Rhinebeck Ferry to Ulster and Delaware Tracks—Will Use it For Coal Business Extension.

One of the most important transfers of real estate in the lower section of this city took place on Monday, when Samuel M. Watts, the well known down town coal dealer, purchased the property known as the William J. Turck lumber yard on East Strand directly opposite the Rhinebeck ferry sheds. The property has a 105 feet frontage on East Strand and is 160 feet deep, running back in the rear to Catherine street and the tracks of the Ulster and Delaware railroad. Beside the yard space it contains a three story brick building with an office on the main floor and living apartments on the two upper floors.

Mr. Watts, when interviewed this morning by a reporter, stated that this property was to be used as an auxiliary to his present plant on Ferry street and that it would be used for storage purposes so as to give him plenty of room to store a sufficient amount of coal when it is being mined and thus prevent any shortage when the mines are idle.

The coal firm of Watts & Tammany, by giving strict attention to business and by giving courteous attention to all the needs of its customers, has grown to be one of the largest coal firms in the city and with this new addition to its equipment will have greatly increased facilities for taking care of its steadily increasing business.

RUM RUNNERS USE DUMMY NAMES

London, July 25.—The British admiralty today is investigating the ownership of vessels alleged to be carrying contraband whiskey cargoes to the United States from British soil. Admiralty officials are convinced however that while many of the ships fly the British flag, they really are owned by Americans.

This investigation, which was undertaken at the request of the American government, has unearthed information indicating that there is a great bootlegging syndicate engaged in smuggling whiskey into America in violation of the Volstead law.

The admiralty investigators have found that the registered owner of several suspected "rum ships" is an obscure person who, until a few months ago, was a penniless shipping clerk. He saw an opportunity for "big business" and is rapidly becoming a multi-millionaire.

It is believed that the bootlegger's syndicate is using dummy names as owners of liquor carrying vessels or in other instances in using dummy persons. This subterfuge is resorted to in order to maintain the alleged rum carriers under the British flag. This phase is under most searching inquiry. As the admiralty officials acquire information it is turned over to the Washington government.

BANNON IS BUSY

Has Large Contract at Greycourt, N. Y.

The work which the L. F. Bannon Company is doing at Greycourt, is for the City of New York. New York city owns a large group of buildings at Greycourt, Orange county, where wayward boys and girls are sent to serve short sentences. The buildings are surrounded by large tracts of land which the inmates are taught to cultivate. This institution instead of being called a prison or reformatory is called a "Farm Colony" under the helpful influence of which the city authorities are in hopes of turning boys and girls who have met with their first downfall into good citizens. The Bannon Company's contract calls for running a water main from the village of Chester to these buildings, a distance of about 2,800 ft. installing fire hydrants on same for fire protection. The Bannon Company has also just received orders to connect up all the laundry and kitchen equipment which is being installed in these buildings. The Bannon Company originally installed the plumbing and heating when these buildings were built a few years ago.

FROM HOTEL STOCK TO MEMBERSHIP

Chamber of Commerce Activities Swing Into a Related Campaign Based on Achievements of the Past Four Years.

"In a year in which both civic and commercial organizations in common with business enterprises have found it very difficult either to initiate or complete large enterprises, the Kingston Chamber of Commerce has completed the necessary financing for Kingston's new hotel of which 'Oscar' of the Waldorf is president."

This important fact was the keynote of an enthusiastic meeting of ward captains in the Chamber of Commerce membership campaign held last night at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

This campaign for renewal of present memberships and the securing of new members is just starting under full headway. Many of the campaign workers having taken part in the whirlwind canvass by the Chamber of Commerce which resulted in the local sale of $150,000 of preferred stock in the new hotel are now turning with equal enthusiasm towards enlisting of new members in the Chamber of Commerce.

One worker at the meeting explained clearly the point of view of every man and woman engaged in the present membership canvass. This worker said:

"There was a time just after the reorganization of the Chamber of Commerce several years ago on a $25 membership basis when the ability of the reorganized Chamber to get results for the civic, industrial and commercial interests of Kingston had not yet been tested. This time has long ago passed. The Chamber during the past four years has made a most creditable record in securing new industries, in stimulating trade, in forwarding civic improvements, in cooperation with the neighboring resort interests, through the Catskill-Shawangunk Mountain Association, which was largely initiated by the Kingston Chamber, in cooperation with the Ulster County Farm Bureau, and finally in initiating and assuring Kingston's splendid new hotel."

"With this in mind every worker in this campaign feels that the Chamber of Commerce is an indispensable institution for the welfare of the city of Kingston and we also find that the people are appreciating the work of the Chamber so that renewal of memberships comes easily while many men and women who have not heretofore had a part in supporting the Chamber of Commerce are now gladly expressing their approval of its activities by joining at this time."

Because of this year's campaign covering a longer period than has previously been the case and because membership campaign workers have been temporarily released to assist the Chamber's Hotel Finance Committee, yesterday's meeting was more of the nature of a beginning than of a report.

Notwithstanding this every ward captain had something to turn in in the way of renewals and new memberships and all join the prediction that the next meeting on Friday evening will show a very large membership written as a foundation for the important things which the officers and committees of the Chamber have in progress to follow up this year's splendid achievements by important work during the coming year.

BRODHEAD HELPED SELF TO A FORD CAR, WRECKING IT.

Car Was Owned by William Krom, a Taxi Driver.

Late Monday afternoon William Krom, who drives for the Willyway Taxi Company, parked his Ford touring car in front of the garage at 354 Broadway. Later Jack Brodhead came along and decided that it was time he enjoyed a ride in a car, and helped himself to the Ford. All might have gone well but when near Delaware avenue and Broadway one of the tires blew out and the car swerved broadside into the curb, smashing the top against the tree and the front wheel against the curb. The Ford's wishbone was also twisted badly. Young Brodhead sustained a cut arm and was hurried to a doctor for attention, and the Ford to the garage for repairs. No report of the affair was made to the police up to noon today.

In Police Court.

Lawrence Day of Chatham, arrested Monday by Officer Kuehn on a charge of speeding, contributed $5 to the city treasury. Fred D. Smith, arrested the same day by Officer Aley on a charge of public intoxication on Railroad avenue, contributed the same amount on his plea of guilty. Max Monea, a taxi driver, arrested by Officer Saelhoff on complaint of Superintendent Smith of Kingston Point Park, had his hearing adjourned to August 1. He was charged with a violation of the taxi ordinance in soliciting passengers while standing more than five feet from his car at the park.

State Police at Hornell.

Hornell, July 25.—Fifteen state troopers are here today in response to an appeal from the mayor for aid, following the killing of Frank Ardoino Sunday. Three detectives, charged with the killing, are out on bail. It is expected the governor will send additional troopers before the day ends. Further trouble between striking shipmen and Erie railroad guards prompted the appeal.

FREE STATE FORCE FALLING BACK

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Dublin, July 25.—A train carrying rebel prisoners to Dublin was attacked from ambush in County Wexford today and two Regular soldiers were killed. As the train was drawing into Harcourt station snipers fired upon it from roof tops. Two arrests were made.

A small detachment of Regulars was landed from the Free State "Mosquito Fleet" near Cork, giving battle to the rebels on the outskirts of that city.

The advance of the Regulars through southern Ireland continues. In view of the hostilities, however, the meeting of parliament which was to have opened on Saturday, has been postponed indefinitely. There was considerable firing in this city throughout the night. The extent of casualties, if any, is unknown.

The Free State troops operating in the southwestern counties have occupied Clarrmorris.

All of County Mayo has now been cleared of irregulars. As the rebels fell back they left a track of destruction and desolation.

Irregular headquarters have now been established at Fermoy. The rebels are still concentrating in the region of Cork and it is expected that the final clash between the Irregular and Free State armies will be fought in that region.

TO RAISE $4,600 FOR BOY SCOUTS

A meeting of the officers of Kingston District Boy Scout Council was held Monday evening at which plans were gotten well under way for the collection of the $4,600 to be raised here to finance a live Boy Scout organization during the coming year. Team captains for each of the wards were chosen and also a general committee. Plans are well advanced in the other four districts of the county for the raising of funds.

At the meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday the teams will be filled out from Kiwanis members and others interested in the movement and a house-to-house canvass of the city will be made commencing next Monday. The teams captains also are to meet with President Dittus of the Kiwanis Club for lunch at Pessenar's Wednesday noon.

Ward captains selected are Arthur Burns, Dr. J. K. Gillett, Andrew Cook, Emil Boesneck, Chester A. Baltz, Samuel Stern, Newton Pessenden, W. A. Van Valkenburgh, Sam Messinger, E. R. Alford, Edgar N. Pallen, Robert J. Service, R. Dittus. General committee: Judge Joseph M. Fowler, chairman; Elva H. Bogart, Ward B. Everett, Elmer E. Eastward, Raphael Cohen, Ray Hiltbrant, City Judge Harry Schickel, Andrew Cook and Charles Warren.

DETROIT COAL SUPPLY RAPIDLY DIMINISHING.

Detroit, Mich., July 25.—Shortage of fuel, due to strikes in the bituminous fields, will send many passenger steamers operating out of Detroit to the docks this summer. Stocks of coal are rapidly diminishing and several companies have only enough on hand to operate their vessels another week. Freighters likewise have had trouble obtaining bunker coal and owners believe many vessels will have to be docked soon.

De Valera in Tipperary.

London, July 25.—Pate and Wau, Edmond De Valera, chief of the Republican Irregulars, is leading the retreat of the rebels in Tipperary, said a dispatch to the Star this afternoon. According to the Star's Irish correspondent De Valera is establishing headquarters at Cashel.

COMPANY UNION PLAN SPREADING

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 25.—Western railroads, it was expected today, will follow the example of eastern lines and begin organization of "company unions" to replace the organizations of shopmen who are on strike. The movement for formation of "company unions" is believed to indicate the roads are preparing for a prolonged fight and have no intention of yielding to the demands of the strikers.

The doorway to the formation of company organizations was held open, it was pointed out today, by the recent resolution of the United States Railway Labor Board "outlawing" the striking shopmen. The board has announced it will recognize employees of any road if the organization represents a majority of the shopmen working on that road.

B. M. Jewell, leader of the strikers, was scornful of the success of the movement to form new unions of shopmen now at work. "Just ask Sam Gompers how long it will be before the American Federation of Labor will issue charters to these 'unions' they are talking about," Jewell said.

Although no one in authority would comment upon that phase of the question, it was reported today that the resolution of the labor board "outlawing" the striking shopmen had arisen as one of the chief obstacles to settlement of the strike.

Chairman Ben W. Hooper, of the labor board, reiterated today his statement that the board has no plans on foot for settlement of the strike. It was reported, but not officially confirmed, however, that Hooper and Jewell were in secret conference yesterday. Neither Hooper nor Jewell denied the report.

Further curtailment of traffic as a result of the strike was reported today in the announcement of several roads of discontinuance of trains. It was announced that in North Dakota three days a week service would be inaugurated on several branch lines, automobile trucks being used on intervening days to transport mails.

E. H. Fitzgerald, grand president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, was to hold a meeting here today with the general chairman of his organization.

MCWIE PAYS $25 FINE FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

Ross McWile of this city was arrested Saturday evening in Saugerties by Police Captain A. W. Richter on the charge of operating an automobile while intoxicated. McWile ran into an Overland car driven by F. E. Kain of Beachhurst, L. I. With McWile were four other men, who said they were returning from picking berries. Bob Freer furnished the bail of $100 and he was released until Monday morning at which time through his attorney, Grant M. Brinner, he pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving and not guilty of intoxication. Justice Abeel imposed a fine of $25 which he paid.

Benefit Dance For Strikers.

Thursday evening at Kingston Point Casino a grand benefit dance will be given the proceeds to be for the benefit of the striking railroad shop crafts of the railroads. Music will be furnished by Balfe's orchestra of eight musicians, and dancing will begin at 8 o'clock. A large number of tickets have already been sold and a large crowd of railroad men and their friends will be present.

Train Three Hours Late.

Train 13 on the West Shore railroad which brings the mail and the three o'clock editions of the New York evening papers to this city was nearly three hours late in arriving at the union station here last night.

JOINT CONFERENCE OF MINERS AND MINE OWNERS TO BE HELD

Will Meet in Cleveland on Saturday and Try to Reach a Basis of Agreement With a View of Ending Strike of Miners of Bituminous Coal.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, July 25.—It was understood on reliable authority this afternoon that there will be a joint conference of bituminous mine owners and striking miners in Cleveland on Saturday when an effort will be made to reach a common basis of agreement. According to the information participation by representatives of the miners is being arranged by Lee Hall, president of the state organization of miners in Ohio.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, who is in this city, refused to deny or confirm that the meeting would be held.

"I cannot make any comment at this time," said Mr. Lewis. Asked if he would go to Cleveland to take part in the reported conference, Mr. Lewis said:

"I am not in a position to say anything or make any comment whatsoever."

It was suggested that pressure from Washington may have had something to do with the calling of the conference, but the arrangements are being conducted so secretly that it is not known to what extent, if any, Washington is responsible.

The coal strike is now in its fourth month and has begun to cripple industry in some parts of the country.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE BOARD DICTATORS OF TRANSPORTATION

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, July 25.—If the Hoover plan for strike relief is adopted, the Interstate Commerce Commission will virtually become the dictator of the nation's transportation system under the broad power attributed to it by Attorney General Daugherty.

The commission itself must declare an emergency to exist before it can act, which it thus far has not done. The commission is the rate-regulating agency of the government. It has always been held to be a quasi-judicial body, amenable only to Congress which created it and not to the executive.

The commission is composed of eleven members, as follows:

Chairman, Charles T. McChord, Democrat, of Kentucky, lawyer. Balzhazar H. Meyer, Republican, of Wisconsin, college professor. Winthrop M. Daniels, Democrat, of New Jersey, college professor. Clyde B. Atchison, Republican, of Oregon, lawyer. Henry C. Hall, Democrat, of Colorado, lawyer. Joseph H. Eastman, Independent, of Massachusetts, formerly connected with public utilities management. Mark W. Potter, Democrat, of New York, lawyer and railroad president. Ernest L. Lewis, Republican, of Indiana, newspaper man. John B. Campbell, Republican, of Washington, lawyer. Frederick L. Cox, Republican, of New Jersey, former president of the Commercial Travelers' Association.

John E. Esch, Republican, of Wisconsin, ex-congressman and co-author of the transportation act.

The government's plan, evolved by Herbert Hoover and legally O. K'd by Attorney General Daugherty, as laid before the cabinet briefly calls for the appointment by President Harding of a presidential committee which will virtually constitute a transportation priority committee. The committee will include representatives of the departments of commerce, justice and interior, and will operate under the general supervision of the Interstate Commerce Commission. It will determine where the need is gravest and who shall get the coal.

Supplementing this presidential committee will be an administrative committee composed of representatives of the government, the railroads and coal operators, and upon this committee will devolve the duty of getting the coal to its proper destination. Both organizations will function under the direction of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which derives its broad powers from the transportation act of 1920.

In each coal producing district, a government representative will be appointed as well as a committee of producers, coal operators, and these will cooperate to insure the speedy production and dispatch of shipments.

Prices will be governed by the "moral suasion" exercised by the government officials concerned with the emergency, and by the absolute power the government can wield over the allocation of cars to the mine owners, the theory being that recalcitrant operators will be disciplined by the allotment of cars.

Generally speaking, it was said today, prices will be maintained on a level approximating those prevailing June 1 last.

That the plan evolved is an intricate one and capable of many interpretations was frankly admitted today by its chief sponsors. The opinion was generally expressed in administrative circles, however, that it will suffice to keep the country's essential industries and utilities going until peace can be established in the twin rail and coal strikes.

For the time being, peace efforts appear to have broken down in Washington under the more pressing need for measures that will stave off suffering.

In the rail strike, President Harding is looking to the railway labor board and in the coal strike he considers that the matter of production in the bituminous union fields is for the present up to the operators to whom he guaranteed troop protection if they would reopen their mines with voluntary labor.

Considerable importance was attached by officials today to the effort at peace on the Baltimore and Ohio, being made by Daniel Willard, its president in Baltimore. Willard is seeking a separate peace with his own men and if he is successful the belief prevailed that the settlement might have a far-reaching effect on the national situation.

Every report reaching Washington today emphasized the increasing gravity of the industrial situation. Steel, considered one of the basic industries by which the health of all industry is gauged, will have to shut down within a few weeks unless a solution of the coal and rail strike is speedily found.

Public utilities, lighting plants, and the car situation can be solved.

HARDING'S PLAN TO END STRIKE

Would Have Operators Guarantee Miners a Minimum Wage for at Least 280 Days in Each Year.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, July 25.—President Harding has submitted to the coal operators and miners a plan for settling the coal strike, based upon guaranteeing to the miners a minimum wage for at least 280 days in the year, it was announced officially at the White House this afternoon.

State May Operate Mines.

Lansing, Mich., July 25.—Governor Alexander J. Groesbeck left Lansing at 11 o'clock this morning for Saginaw where, this afternoon, he will confer with T. Lee Jones, head of the Michigan coal miners, on a proposal that the mines in the Saginaw district be reopened under state supervision and with the miners who work them as employees of the state, pending settlement of the national coal strike.

Referee in Ryan Bankruptcy.

New York, July 25.—Peter B. Olney has been appointed referee in bankruptcy for Allan A. Ryan, stock broker, by Judge A. H. Hand. Ryan's failure for a large amount was revealed Friday when he filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy.

water plants and municipal railways, in cities far removed from coal districts, are in a precarious condition because of depletion of reserve stocks and inability to replenish. Senators, congressmen and government officials are daily being deluged with appeals for help.

While there is an acute shortage of coal due to the four months' strike in the unionized bituminous fields and the exhaustion of the tremendous reserve stocks with which the country so confidently faced the strike on April 1, nevertheless it was emphasized today by administration officials that the problem is not much one of coal production as it is of proper distribution.

This was made more apparent by the plan which puts the Interstate Commerce Commission in supreme command of the situation.

Production from the non-union fields in West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Pennsylvania, can be pushed up to about 5,000,000 or 6,000,000 tons a week, according to government experts, providing the cars can be provided to get the coal away from the mines. The weekly national consumption normally is about 5,000,000 tons.

With the non-union output supplemented by whatever union fields are able to produce from voluntary labor under troop protection, officials asserted that the country can face the coming months confidently, if only the car situation can be solved.

TAR AND FEATHER MAN WHO WORKED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Slaters, Mo., July 25.—A party of men rushed the east wing of the Chicago and Alton Railroad shops early today, carried off Joe Ward, a strike breaker, and applied a coat of tar and feathers.

Ward was found some time after the attack in a serious condition and was taken to a hospital in Kansas City by Deputy U. S. Marshal Max Wolfe.

CABINET UPHOLDS THE LABOR BOARD

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, July 25.—Following one of the longest cabinet sessions in months it was officially announced at the White House this afternoon that the administration is still standing squarely behind the United States Labor Board in the present transportation crisis and that a solution of the problem is expected to be found in the recognition of the powers given the board by congress.

It was understood that the plan of Secretary of Commerce Hoover for putting the country on a coal rationing basis was discussed in detail by the cabinet and approved. The next step in putting this plan into operation was held to be up to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

BORAH'S BILL TO NATIONALIZE COAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, July 25.—Nationalization or governmental regulation and control of the nation's coal industry is the purpose of a bill introduced in the senate today by Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, chairman of the senate labor committee. The bill provides for the creation of a United States coal commission to deal with all aspects of the coal situation.

After the bill was referred to Borah's committee, he called a meeting of the latter for the purpose of securing early action on the measure and to make a preliminary investigation of the coal and railroad tie-up.

"This measure," Borah explained to the senate, is not intended to deal with the present immediate condition with reference to the coal industry. I should not want that impression to obtain. The present situation is being handled by another department of the government. The bill has for its purpose, however, the preparation of legislation which may be necessary in order to deal with the coal industry in the future. The bill provides:

"That it shall be the duty of said commission to investigate fully the conditions, ascertain the facts and study the questions relating to the coal industry with a view of aiding, assisting and advising the congress relative to legislation either in nationalization or the regulation and control of the coal industry by the government."

"To this end," the bill stipulated, "the said commission shall ascertain and report to the congress and to the president."

"First, as to the ownership and title of the mines;

"Second, cost of production;

"Third, profits realized by the operators or owners of said mines during the last ten years, labor costs, wages paid, irregular production and suggestions as to the remedy for the same and all facts, circumstances or conditions which would be deemed essential in determining and establishing a wise policy relative to the said industry by the government."

A commission would also submit recommendations relative to:

A.—Standardizing the mines upon the basis of their productive capacity and regarding the closing of mines which by reason of their natural limitations fall below the standard.

B.—Standardizing the cost of living for mine workers and the living conditions which must be supplied or afforded in order to surround the workmen with reasonable comforts, recognizing the psychological effect of such surroundings in respect to their efficiency.

C.—Standardization of a basis of arriving at overhead cost of producing the coal and delivering it at the door of the customer, recognizing in this compilation that the standardized cost of living to the miners must be the first and irreducible item of expense.

D.—The advisability or necessity of nationalizing the coal industry.

E.—The feasibility or necessity of governmental regulation and control of the coal industry.

The commission would also render its first report and recommendation as soon as practicable and not later than nine months from the passage of a bill by congress and the president.

The commission would consist of three members appointed by the president with the advice and consent of the senate, one member to be designated from a list of three nominees submitted by the United Mine Workers one from a similar list presented by the National Coal Association; and one representing the public but connected in a business way with the coal industry.

Appointment of the commission would be subject to the advice and consent of the senate, and no member of congress would be eligible to serve on it. Each member would receive a salary of $8,000 a year and the commission would cease to exist within one year after the passage of the bill unless congress provided otherwise.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Rochester, N. Y., July 25.—Fredrick L. Hulme, 23, bank messenger, ex-service man and son of Dr. Morgan L. Hulme, prominent dentist of this city, was being held by the police today on a charge of murder in the first degree. When five boys asked Hulme yesterday afternoon if they could enter his yard and pick some apples he turned on them with a revolver which he fired, the bullet striking Herbert George, 11, in the abdomen. The boy died last night in St. Mary's hospital.

FIFTEEN MEN IN UPSET TRUCK

Big Machine Shot From Road and Down Embankment Monday Evening Near the Fred Will Farm on Plank Road—Only Three Badly Hurt.

Monday evening the big five ton Mack truck loaded with tools and carrying fifteen men in the employ of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company swerved from the road near the Fred Will farm on the Plank Road and shot through the guard rail and down a thirty foot embankment, and many of the men were pinned beneath the truck when it tipped over.

The telephone men had been working during the day making repairs and running the toll line between this city and Oneonta, and were on the way back to Kingston at the time. There is a sharp turn in the road at the place where the truck skidded or the steering gear became fast.

Passing automobilists and those residing in the vicinity helped in extricating the men fastened under the truck and George Burton and John Hackenbury were taken to the Kingston City Hospital. Burton had a broken collar bone and minor injuries while his companion was badly bruised. Neither was seriously hurt, however. The third man injured was Edward A. Wheeler, who was taken to the office of Dr. Harry P. Van Wagenen. He sustained a fracture of the right arm at the wrist and was bruised about the body.

Other men in the truck who were slightly bruised refused medical attention and returned to their homes in Kingston.

The truck was badly damaged.

London, July 25.—Irish rebels have captured and burned Eyre Court barracks in Galway, making prisoners of the regular garrison, said a Central News despatch from Dublin this morning.

"Old-fashioned" Ruskin.
Nevertheless, though the future may prefer to read Ruskin in selections, it is not conceivable that the present affections to despise so great a writer and so fine a spirit will persist. This generation may be tired of Ruskin, but the next will return to his noblest things with a new pleasure. He had an ear, passion, exquisite sensibilities, a wonderful eye for the minutest and the grandest colored forms of nature; and he made some of the most magnificent things in English prose, passages like the lament over St. Mark's, unparaphrased descriptions of pictures, landscapes, trees, flowers—Solomon's Eagle.

Dunbar, a sister of the groom. After the marriage a wedding dinner was served at the residence of the bride's parents at 138 Franklin street. Following the dinner the newlyweds left by auto for a trip to Stamford, Delaware county, where they will visit friends. On their return they will reside at 156 Fair street, this city. The occasion was also the eighteenth birthday of the bride. Both are estimable young people and have the good wishes of a large circle of friends.

ULSTER'S PREDICAMENT.

Developments in Democratic politics within the past few days indicate that William R. Hearst intends with the aid of a few friends to force the Hearst intention to run for governor on the Democratic state convention. If the Democrats don't take Hearst, Hearst will insist on knowing the reason why and he will not be satisfied with any such lame explanation as that which is being put forward now, that "the people don't want Hearst." Such an excuse is beyond the Hearst comprehension. Is he not the ideal representative of "the people?" He has said so himself, and he is ready to throw bricks or anything else that is handy whenever some Democrat has nerve enough to stand up and be counted among the anti's.

Ulster county's Democratic leaders are in an embarrassing situation. The path toward Hearst and "Fingy" Connors leads to the source of untold wealth of which huge slices may be had for the asking, provided delegates can be delivered. Mayor Hylan is for Hearst and Hylan is supposed to exert some mysterious influence over Ulster county because he was born in the neighboring county of Greene and because a few New York city employees are still working and living here.

Should Ulster declare herself in favor of some other candidate there is every reason to believe that no part of the Hearst fortune will be delivered to the campaign in Ulster county. No other Democratic candidate has the money to waste that Hearst has. Even an attempt to bring Roscoe Irwin forward as a favorite son would appear reprehensible in Hearst eyes, for there should not be any such thing as a favorite son while Hearst is a candidate. Besides, the moral effect on the state at large would be favorable to the Hearst candidacy if favorite sons could be induced to withdraw in favor of Hearst.

So the question for Ulster Democrats to consider is whether they will fight for principle or pay, whether they will pay attention to the strong anti-Hearst sentiment that exists in the county or ignore it and try to make Democratic voters believe it does not exist. There was a time when principle controlled to such a degree in Ulster county that primary contests were held on the question of Hearst control of the party, and eventually resulted in a change in party control in the county.

While other counties are actively manifesting their attitude on the Hearst candidacy, Ulster is remaining quiet in the hope that it will be overlooked until the votes are counted in the convention. But such attitude is not safe in the present critical situation. There is no longer a Woodrow Wilson administration on which to rely. A new condition confronts Democrats. There must be a new alignment which must be definitely either for or against Hearst.

DEBS IS CONSISTENT.

President Harding, who released Debs from prison, must think it rather ungrateful of him to talk as he is talking while the government is confronted with the embarrassment of strikes seriously damaging to the public interests. While the pardon is trying to maintain order and prevent interruption of vital industries, the pardoned issues an inflammatory appeal urging the strikers "to stand together, to strike together, to vote together and to fight all along the line," telling them that they stood together "behind Wall street" during the war and that now Wall street and a plutocratic government are "lined up against you in battle array and ready to shoot you down like dogs."

Debs further urges the strikers to combine all their union into one great union and cut loose from "the rotten political parties"—to become socialists and anarchists, in other words. It can not be claimed that Debs made any promises, however. Undoubtedly it was hoped that he would promise to be good, but he flatly refused. He put Attorney-General Daugherty on notice that he expected to go right on doing what he had done before his imprisonment. He was and is consistent. Debs was convicted of inciting mutiny and insubordination in the army, of boldly fighting the draft after our government at war had put it in effect. When President Wilson was urged to cut down the ten-year sentence and let Debs out of jail he refused, declaring that he would do nothing of the sort for the man who virtually shot our soldiers in the back when they were facing the Germans. When released later by order of another president, Debs boldly declared that he "would do it again." He is not out on parole, he knows it, and nobody ought to be surprised to find him acting accordingly.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper, enclosing self-addressed and stamped envelope for reply.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Does the ostrich bury its head when frightened and consider itself hidden?
2. Is there any odor to snakes?
3. Do jackrabbits always turn white in winter?

Answers in Tomorrow's Nature Notes

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. Does the wood thrush sing only when high up in the trees? (Taking this for Mustelidae, also called "song" thrush.) His best song, or formal singing, so to speak, is usually given from a high branch, before the sun is hot, and at the edge of the evening. But he has beautiful snatches of music while wandering through the lower growths looking for food, through the daylight hours, particularly in cool, secluded situations in woods.
2. Why is fish good as fertilizer? Because fishes' bodies contain phosphoric acid and nitrogen, foods needed by growing plants, and taken up through the soil. Some soils have these elements from various sources. Other soils may be poor in them and need to be artificially replenished. Fish, decaying quickly, sets free its store of these chemicals. American Indians are credited with understanding the practice; if not the chemical theory of feeding soil with fish.
3. Are there any buffaloes in Europe? Yes, but they are called by their ancient name of bison. What specimens remain are in protected parks, etc., in Lithuania, Roumania, and the mountains of the Caucasus. The "wild ox" of southern Europe was called buffalo while the more northern species took the word of Scandinavian or Teutonic peoples. The word buff, meaning light tan or dun color, is said to come from buffalo, getting its meaning from the animal's coat.

REVIVAL OF NATIVE INDUSTRIES PLANNED

Willow, July 24.—The old art of braided rugs and patch quilts is almost extinct, in that very few are made now, but the very scarcity of these quaint home made things makes them an object of eager interest to artistic people.

An exhibit of rugs, quilts, china and old furniture will be held at Crosspatch Annex, Willow valley, on Wednesday afternoon, August 2. Some of the articles will be for sale, but others will be shown for their artistic value and in the hope that rug and quilt making may be revived in the neighborhood of Willow.

"At present I know of one woman who dyes her rugs with home made dyes, such as elderberry and sumac. She sews and braids the loveliest rugs, for she understands the knack of making them lie flat and her color perception is very good. She made six oval rugs last winter and I expect to exhibit three."

Doesn't the "log cabin" quilt bring up memories? We are on the track of one that took two winters to piece and another to quilt. The owner thinks she may sell it. Only silk, wool and velvet are used in it. It's as beautiful as an oriental rug.

A small piece of quilt in "copperplate" over 100 years old, is one of our family heirlooms and will be borrowed for the exhibit.

Several piece quilts have been entered and those who have them, even if not for sale are asked to loan them to Crosspatch annex for the one afternoon and evening of the bazaar or exhibit.

On the day of the exhibit, there will be some fine china and candlesticks from the European collection of Mrs. Cross and her sister, Blanch Mac Donald.

A gypsy fortune teller, afternoon tea and games will furnish an afternoon program with the regular weekly dance in the evening.

Any person who will loan rugs or quilts will please write to Mrs. Cross at Willow.

FRUIT PUNCH MAKES HIT AT CROSSPATCH ANNEX.

Willow, July 24.—A list of popular ladies, as shown by votes cast, will be posted Wednesday evening at Crosspatch Annex in Willow. As this is the evening of the regular weekly dance, further voting will probably go on right merrily.

"We began the voting last Wednesday evening," said Mrs. Cross, "and I have already entered two ladies from Willow, one from Mt. Pleasant and one from New York. Quite a number of the voting slips were held for further consideration and will be turned in Wednesday evening. The result of the popularity contest will not be announced until the evening of Labor Day. By starting the voting early I expect to have candidates from all the towns between Kingston and Willow. The voting slips are given with admission tickets and refreshments."

Speaking of refreshments, an old fashioned fruit punch made quite a hit at the Crosspatch Annex dance last Wednesday evening. It was made from a recipe given to Mrs. Cross by the wife of a southern senator in Washington, D. C., some years ago.

"Those were the days before prohibition," said Mrs. Cross, "but it was considered better form to serve non-alcoholic refreshments at public receptions. There was some rivalry as to who could serve the most attractive drink which would 'cheer but not inebriate.'"

"The secret lies in the blend of fruits and in cooking certain ingredients in order to get a peculiar flavor."

"When people ask me how it is made, and I tell them it is lemonade with various fruits, I'm telling the truth, but not all of it. The kinds and proportions are quite an art. Some of the fruit juices have to be extracted several days beforehand and kept at an even temperature in the mountain spring house. As I drive down to Willow to Crosspatch Annex there is certainly a strange rattling of bottles, but nothing that would interest a boozing hound."

"By the way, I forget the springs of mint last Wednesday evening. They should fringe the edge of the punch bowl and connoisseurs put a tiny sprig in the glass, to bring out the fruit flavors."

"On Crosspatch mountain we have a bed of mint near the cold spring that used to be famous in the days that have gone forever. The blossom is dark purple, changing to lavender as the cluster opens. It is worth going miles to see, even if the old associations of mint are no more."

KINGSTON, NEW YORK

AUTOMOBILE CLUB TO ENFORCE LAW

State Association Also Favors Licenses for All Drivers and Opposes Compulsory Bonding and Insurance.

At the mid-summer meeting of the New York State Automobile Association, held at the Stevens House, Lake Placid, the treasurer's report showed that five new clubs had been organized with a membership of 533 and that the total membership of the association on July 1 was 20,221, an increase of 1,001 members over July, 1921.

The association went on record as favoring the licensing of all operators. The matter of bonding and insurance, which has caused much concern among motor car drivers, was referred to the law and legislative committee to report at the next annual convention. This committee is being vigorously fought by the association but every effort to protect lives and property is being given great attention by the association.

A resolution placing the association on record as favoring an active undertaking by the local clubs and their officers in enforcing the motor vehicle law and all regulations was adopted. During 1921, 1,381 persons were killed and 40,000 injured in this state alone due almost entirely to the lack of qualification and regulatory measures affecting operators of automobiles. Up to July 15, more than 1,000 persons have been killed in, or by, with automobiles in the state and indications are that the 2,000 mark will be reached.

The matter of affiliation with the new National Association will be taken up with the local clubs and action taken at the annual meeting in October of the state association. The association also decided to lend its aid, and efforts to ascertain whether the surplus suitable war materials may be obtained for the purpose of snow removal and other repairs or improvements, providing the municipalities will agree to make appropriation for the maintenance and operation of such equipment or material.

WAYS FOR ENLARGING THE UNDERIZED FARM

Every possible acre of a farm should be used to its maximum capacity. The few acres of waste land on any one farm are a loss to the individual farmer, and the total of these patches throughout the country, enormous in the aggregate, is of most serious concern to the entire nation.

The causes of waste land usually are stumps, boulders, wet spots, gullies, and hardpan. Stumps cause "loose land" by taking up space in the fields, by prohibiting economical cultivation, and by making breeding places for weeds and crop pests. They make the farm unsightly.

Boulders cause the same troubles in general as stumps, and are shown assisting the stumps in dwarfing our farm.

The overflow caused by the shallow crooked stream channel takes away more of the farm's good land and replaces it with a swamp that breeds disease and does not even afford good pasture. The spring and its shallow outlet make this condition still worse.

A part of the back fields is gullied and cut up into small patches that cannot be handled successfully. The fertile surface has been washed away. The bald or galled spots will not produce because there can be no storage of moisture and no humus.

The tight clay or hardpan cuts off the under side of the farm, reducing the productive size by taking away the third dimension—depth. It reduces yields of field crops and kills or stunts the trees.

In one feature or another our farm is typical of practically every farm. It looks unsightly and is only one-third efficient in crop production, and our aim is to change this farm to a full-sized one; to obtain the use of all the land, to make possible large fields, good crops, a good orchard, and a bounteous garden with attractive house.

We naturally begin with the easiest places. The otherwise good bottom has but to be rid of stumps to make it conform to the highest ideals of the owner. These stumps are old and dead, and but small charges of explosives are required to dispose of them.

The gullies and bare spots in the big field follow next. A line of lightly loaded charges will tumble the soil into the gullies and so nearly fill them that they can be plowed across and brought into actual cultivation. Subsoil shattering and a coating of manure will revive the bald spots and the rest of the hardpan. The field is then all ready for the green manure crop to fit it for a fruitful orchard and good crop-yielding land.

With these two big fields in good condition attention is turned to drainage, and the water from the wet spot back of the house disappears through crevices blasted into the underlying ground. A blast from a long line of loaded holes makes a fine straight channel for the creek, and a line of lighter loads lowers the spring branch so that all of the fertile swamp becomes field or meadow.

Spare hours spent in blasting the yard, garden, and old orchard enrich flowers, trees, and vegetables, and lay the foundation for future good years for each of them.

When all else is done the rough old pasture can be attacked as opportunity arises. When the stumps and boulders are all gone, the once unsightly spot can be brought into the regular rotation.

Choked Wife To Death.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Detroit, July 25.—Vania Walters, 35, is held today on a murder charge following confession that she choked her wife, Florence, to death last night because she refused to surrender money she was saving to buy a new suit.

CHARLES IS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Joseph Charles, the veteran of the World War who captured a machine gun squad of Germans, for which he received a medal of honor from the government, was arrested on Monday afternoon by Policeman Elmer Shoemaker on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated.

This morning before Judge Schirick in police court, Charles waived examination and was held to await the action of the next grand jury. Bail was fixed at $500 and furnished.

COMMONWEALTH HOTEL STOCKHOLDERS FORM CLUB.

At the Stuyvesant Hotel Friday evening an organization which will be known as the Commonwealth Club of Ulster County, was organized. The organization consists of local stockholders in the Commonwealth Hotel corporation in New York city. Kingston will be the headquarters of the local organization, which will include members from Ulster county. There were about 20 members present at the meeting, there being about 125 stockholders in the county.

James S. Brooks of New York presided as toastmaster. After the dinner the following officers were elected: Chairman, Frank R. Powley; Elva Bogart, vice chairman; Arthur Weeks, secretary. The chairman is to appoint a committee to pass on future membership. Others from out of town were Charles Perry, Max Stein and S. Rose, all of whom are interested in the Commonwealth association.

The officers of the local association will represent the county at the annual meeting of the directors of the Commonwealth Hotel corporation and with the officers of other clubs which are being and have been formed will act as an advisory board.

The men who organized the local club will be in Albany this evening, where an organization will be formed.

RAILROAD STRIKERS ARE SWORN IN AS POLICEMEN

By Telegram to The Freeman. Crestline, Ohio, July 25.—Probably for the first time in history striking railroad men have been sworn in as special policemen.

Mayor Milton C. Reed here has appointed ten of the striking Pennsylvania railroad shopmen as members of the Crestline police force, serving without pay, but sworn to observe and protect property rights.

With the sanction of railroad officials these ten strikers were chosen from among the level-headed members of the different classes of railroad men who walked out of the Crestline shops July 1 last. They will aid the local police in governing the strike situation in the Crestline district.

In the event the plan works out satisfactorily, it is said, ten more striking railroad shop workers will be appointed. The new special policemen work eight-hour shifts and are accountable to the mayor and chief of police.

TO CONDEMN RIGHT OF WAY FOR PLATTEKILL-NEWBURGH ROAD

On the application of the County of Orange, made through County Attorney Joseph W. Gott, Justice Seeger at special term of Supreme Court in Newburgh Saturday afternoon granted a judgment of condemnation and appointed a commission to take testimony and appraise the value of land in the Town of Newburgh belonging to Nathan Newman and his wife, Frances, needed for the proposed improved Plattekill highway from the North Plank road to the Ulster county line.

The commission selected by Justice Seeger consists of James B. B. Brundage and William F. Brush of Newburgh and John T. Gerow of Washingtonville. As soon as the members have sworn in, the Good Roads Committee of the Board of Supervisors will advertise for bids on the contract to reconstruct the road as authorized by vote of the Board.

Wednesday, July 3. The road will be concrete 18 feet wide, the county paying for 16 feet and the Town Board of the Town of Newburgh for the two feet additional. The length is something more than three miles. The work is to be completed this fall.

INQUEST IN PORT EWEN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT CASE.

An adjourned inquest to investigate the death of Ross Sheldon Ellsworth, 10 year old son of Harry Ellsworth of Port Ewen, who was killed when one of Spinneweber's cars driven by Nicholas Spinneweber, struck the lad near Port Ewen on June 30, was held Monday afternoon at the court house by Coroner Conner.

Several witnesses were examined by District Attorney Traver and their testimony was taken down by Stenographer William Glass. After the notes have been written out they will be reviewed by Coroner Conner, who will hand down his decision.

The accident happened when several children were playing along the road and at the time was said to have been unavoidable. The Ellsworth lad, it was said, stepped in front of the Spinneweber car and was struck before the driver could stop his car. Several ribs were broken and he was taken to Dr. G. W. Ross's office and later taken to the Kingston City Hospital, where he died the same evening. Witnesses to the accident at the time said the children were playing on a stone boat and the Ellsworth child stepped from the vehicle and ran across the road and into the path of the approaching car, which swerved to avoid him but was unsuccessful.

BUFFALO POLES COMPARE STATE TROOPERS TO COSSACKS

By Telegram to The Freeman. Buffalo, July 25.—Governor Miller has been asked to remove the state troopers doing strike duty here, from the city on the ground that their conduct has been brutal to men, women and children.

The petitioners are accused of "manhandling" quiet, law-abiding citizens" and of having "placed themselves in a class with the once-hated Russian Cossacks."

The street car situation is unchanged. Cars are being operated on all the lines but few are riding in them.

In addition to the petition of Polish citizens, asking recall of the state constabulary, Councilman Frank C. Perkins has appealed to the governor to use his good offices to end the strike. He, too, demands recall of the troopers; three of whom are facing arrest on warrants charging ill-treatment. Night cars are not being molested.

GUARDIAN IS APPOINTED FOR AKRON DRUNK MAN

By Telegram to The Freeman. Akron, Ohio, July 25.—A vivid reminder of pre-Volsteadian days was noted in Probate Court here a few days ago, when Judge L. D. Shusser appointed a guardian for a drunkard for the purpose of preventing him from squandering an inheritance aggregating several thousand dollars.

It was stated that the inebriated heir became acquainted with a bootlegger who learned of the inheritance.

Although from now on the bootlegger will have to deal with the guardian, Probate Court officials voiced the opinion that the chances for the illicit liquor vender meeting with success are "very slim."

LATEST FIGURES GIVING CHURCH MEMBERSHIP IN U. S.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, July 25.—According to statistics gathered by the Federal Council of Churches, and printed in the Year Book of the Churches which has just been issued, of every 106 persons in the United States, 10 have no religious affiliation and 96 are affiliated through membership, financial support, attendance or other ties with various religious bodies, as follows:

Protestant	75
Roman Catholic	18
Other Faiths	3
No religious affiliation	10
Total	106

The Year Book of the Churches gives the total church population of the country as follows:

Roman Catholic	17,855,646
Eastern Orthodox	411,054
Latter Day Saints	587,918
Jewish	1,600,000
Protestant	75,099,489
Total	95,854,107

On this basis the Methodist and Baptist churches have a greater constituency than the Roman Catholic church, the figures being:

Methodists	22,171,959
Baptists	21,938,700
Roman Catholics	17,855,646

In connection with these figures, the Year Book, which was compiled by Dr. E. O. Watson, Washington secretary of the Federal Council of Churches, explains the difficulty of reaching a basis of comparison of the different religious bodies owing to their varying basis of membership.

The Year Book of the Churches brings out the different methods of computing membership in the Roman Catholic and most of the Protestant bodies. The Roman Catholic church, according to the Catholic Directory, includes in its membership "Catholic population," while all but a few small bodies of the Protestant churches count only communicant members. So the two figures are not comparable unless the Protestant membership is used as a basis for "constituency" of "Protestant population."

It has been somewhat difficult to get the proper ratio between communicant membership and constituency but Dr. Walter Laidlaw of New York, who has had large experience as statistician of the New York Federation of Churches and in the Census Bureau, has demonstrated through various tests that communicant membership multiplied by 2.5 will give "church population." For instance, it is misleading to say that there are 17,855,646 Roman Catholics and 26,745,543 Protestants, when the former refers to "Roman Catholic Population" and the latter is "communicant membership." To make them comparable the Protestant communicant membership has been multiplied by 2.5.

The Year Book also shows that whereas by the latest figures available on January 1, 1921, the combined communicant membership of the Baptist Churches of the country led the combined Methodists by 37,359, belated returns by the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church give the Methodists a lead of 33,307. The growth of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church is said to be the most remarkable growth of the churches for the five year period. The Methodists have 7,918,557 communicant members and the Baptists 7,835,250 communicant members.

GOLF COURSES FURNISH FEED FOR MANY BIRDS

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, July 25.—A golf course in many respects makes an ideal community bird refuge and solfiers, says the Department of Agriculture, should co-operate in the preservation, encouragement and increase of useful birds.

The broad expanses of short grass on the fairways, officials point out, furnish excellent feeding grounds for robins, meadowlarks, starlings, flickers and killdeer. In rougher spots there is an abundant insect population for bird food. Most golf courses have water hazards at which birds can drink and bathe and many are protected to a large extent from trespass and are relatively free from natural enemies to birds.

Thus, officials assert, birds are afforded ample protection, food and water, but nesting sites may be lacking and must be supplied by artificial nest boxes or trees and shrubbery along the sides of the course.

Two Fords Collided.

AUGUST MILK PRICES HIGHER

Producers milk prices for August will be practically one cent a quart higher than those prevailing for July, according to the recommendation of the Board of Directors of the Dairy-men's League Cooperative Association, Inc., at their meeting in New York city, July 19 and 20.

Prices recommended for August milk are as follows:

Class 1. Milk used for fluid consumption, $2.69.

Class 2. Milk used chiefly for the manufacture of cream and ice cream, $2.69.

Class 3 is subdivided into two subdivisions: 3 A, milk used chiefly for the manufacturing of canned milk, price to be determined by the market quotation of butter for August plus a differential of forty cents a hundred pounds; Class 3 B, milk to be manufactured chiefly into the form of fancy hard cheese, price to be determined on the market quotations of butter plus an increased differential of thirty cents per hundred pounds.

Class 4. Milk used in the manufacture of butter and American cheese, price to be determined by market quotations for August.

These prices represent an increase all the way along for the line and are welcome news to farmers. The June price for Class 1 milk testing three per cent at the 200-210 mile zone was $1.75. The July price for the same class was $2.22, and the price for August as recommended by the League means another one cent per quart raise, or $2.69.

WORKERS NOT CONSULTED SAYS PRESIDENT LOREE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, July 25.—The attitude of President Harding and Chairman Ben W. Hooper of the Railway Labor Board towards the railroad shopmen's strike were scored by President L. F. Loree of the Delaware and Hudson railroad.

Mr. Loree pointed out that Chairman Hooper had said that President Harding had sought to know the strike situation from every angle, getting the viewpoint of the men as well as the employers. According to Mr. Loree, however, the president, in his effort to get the viewpoint of the men attempted to get information only from those who went out and not those who remained at work.

Mr. Loree's statement follows: "The morning papers quote Chairman Ben W. Hooper as saying: 'As might be supposed the president (Harding) seeks to know this situation from every angle, from the viewpoint of the carriers, the employees, the board and the public.'

"So far as I have been advised, neither the president nor Chairman Hooper have ever made any effort whatsoever to ascertain the viewpoint of the employees. The strikers point of view has been developed at great length but no effort has been made to develop the employees' point of view."

IRWIN BOOM BOOSTED ALONG BY TWELFTH WARD

Roscoe Irwin's boom for governor was launched again Monday night this time by his neighbors and friends in the Twelfth Ward, who met at Excelsior House on Hurley avenue to organize for his campaign.

The formal action taken by the Twelfth Ward Democrats is believed to have Mr. Irwin's sanction because that is his own ward. The Irwin candidacy will be a rebuke to the Hearst candidacy which has been poking its nose in Ulster county recently, and deserving Democrats will look to Judge Betts instead of Mr. Hearst for generous contributions.

Judge Betts presided at Monday evening's meeting, of which Edward Cunningham was secretary. Resolutions endorsing Mr. Irwin and calling attention to his record as city judge and mayor of Kingston, as internal revenue collector and to the run he made last November as a candidate for justice of the Supreme court were offered by Judge James Jenkins and adopted.

A campaign committee to further the Irwin boom was appointed, consisting of Aldermen William B. Martin, Judge James Jenkins, Ernest W. Kearney, Milton O. Auchmoody and L. E. Dunne. Miss Margaret Kennedy were selected as committeemen for the first district of the ward. The second district committeemen will be chosen later.

The Irwin "bar" may not contain as much money as that of Mr. Hearst, but under Judge Betts' direction and supervision it will be administered much more prudently and there will be something left for another year, too.

Not So Simple.

The tungsten-flament electric lamp, a familiar object in countless households, seems a simple thing. Yet into the manufacture of this article enter elements from several countries. The tungsten is made from which the filament is made, comes from one produced chiefly in California, Colorado, Nevada and South Dakota. The glass bulb requires for its manufacture silica, soda, nitre, which comes from Chile, potash, manganese, a great deal of which is produced in Russia, arsenic, borax, feldspar, lead, aluminum, cryolite from Greenland and cobalt from Canada. The base of the lamp is a composition of copper from Utah and zinc from Missouri. The cement in the base is a mixture of marble dust from the Vermont marble quarries, whiting from Ohio, shellac from India and pine resin from the Southern States.

WHITNEY WILLING TO MARRY DANCER

Father Preferred Her to "One of Those Fokkeris from Uptown" But Mother Was Boss, He Told Mrs. Fontaine.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, July 25.—It was only the opposition of his mother that kept Cornelius Vanderbilt (Sonny) Whitney from marrying Miss Evan Burrows Fontaine long before the birth of the dancer's son, Cornelius, Jr., according to Mrs. Fawn E. Fontaine, mother of the disappointed girl.

In an interview with an International News staff correspondent at her home, 181 Lefferts avenue, Kew Gardens, L. I., today, Mrs. Fontaine asserted that not only had young Whitney proposed immediate marriage to her daughter on more than one occasion but that his father had indicated his willingness to the match. Mrs. Whitney, however, refused to listen to the proposals.

"Sonny came up to the Follies roof where my daughter was playing one night and tried to persuade her to elope with him," Mrs. Fontaine explained. "I have a thousand dollars in my pocket now," he told her, "I want you to elope with me."

"Why, you're crazy, Sonny," my daughter replied. You can't do that. You had better go down and talk it over with your father. It was between acts of a play there when Evan had come off the stage, Sonny was waiting for her, having come up after going to our apartment at the Pennsylvania Hotel and learning that we had gone to the roof.

"Well, after talking things over, Sonny decided to take Evan's advice. He went back to the hotel with us and slept that night on a lounge in a room of our apartment."

"The next day he went to his father's office. Upon returning to the hotel he had another long talk with Evan. 'I'm glad I took your advice,' he said. 'I'm glad I waited.'"

"About two weeks later Sonny went away," the mother of the pretty dancer continued. "He was sent to a camp in Maine. Two of his boy friends accompanied him, a boy named Cowles and a nephew of the late Theodore Roosevelt, Kenneth Reed. I believe his name was. I am convinced Sonny was sent there to get him away from my daughter."

"However, he kept corresponding with her and sent her pictures of his camp life."

Mrs. Fontaine revealed that the subject of marriage between her daughter and young Whitney had come up again at an interview between the dancer and Harry Payne Whitney, wealthy sportsman, father of the boy, about three months after the birth of Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, Jr., as the dancer calls her 19-months old boy who is now figuring as the storm center of the girl's suit. The discussion was held at a Fifth Avenue hotel, Mrs. Fontaine says.

During the course of that talk the elder Whitney confided to Miss Fontaine—according to the girl's mother—that he would rather have a practical girl like her as a daughter-in-law than "one of those fokkeris from uptown."

"But you know," he added, according to Mrs. Fontaine, "I don't run my household. My wife is the boss." "I got the impression from what my daughter told me of this interview that Mr. Whitney, senior, offered no objections at all to marriage," Mrs. Fontaine went on. "It was the boy's mother. She was the only obstacle."

Mrs. Fontaine said her daughter "made it plain" to Mr. Whitney on that occasion that his son was the father of her child.

When he learned of the state of affairs young Whitney again expressed an eagerness to elope, Mrs. Fontaine declared. One of the elopement proposals came shortly after young Whitney had been suspended from Yale, Mrs. Fontaine explained. The youth at that time was a candidate for a place on one of the sophomore rowing crews and evidently his setback had affected him keenly. The dancer is still on the Pacific coast.

PLAYING HIDE AND SEEK WITH FLOATING RUM HOUND.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Providence, R. I., July 25.—Another revenue cutter today joined the Acushnet, which has been watching for a liquor-laden steamer known to be somewhere three miles off Narragansett Pier. Summer residents are taking keen interest in the game of hide and seek being played by the government craft and the rum runner.

Thus far the Acushnet has been nearly successful in preventing local craft from "teaching the rum ship. One motor boat that reached the steamer was captured at Wickford, her crew of two men arrested and her cargo of 50 cases of whiskey seized.

KINGSTON TEAM BEATS ELLENVILLE

Saturday on the Ellenville Diamond —All Stars Are Playing Good Ball—Milton Is On Their Schedule and They Wish To Hear From Other Teams.

On Saturday the fast Kingston All Stars traveled to Ellenville where they scored an easy win over the team representing that place.

Quick, who started on the hill for Ellenville, was driven to cover in the fifth when six hits netted the Kingstonians five runs. McDowell, who replaced him, was also pounded hard by the All Stars and when the dust settled after the ninth inning Kingston had gathered 14 runs to Ellenville's 5.

Quick started out in good fashion in the first, fanning the first three men to face him. It was not until the third that the All Stars found him. Komasa grounded out to short but Cullen singled to center and took second on a bad return. Van Bramer doubled to left scoring Cullen. Long was walked and Ditzik singled scoring Van Bramer and putting Long on third. Long scored on Leskie's neat double to center. Leskie was left when Carter grounded to short.

Cullen pitched his usual good brand of ball and was invincible in the pinches, keeping Ellenville's six hits well scored. He walked but one man. The All Stars' strong fielding team played errorless ball behind him and were unable to hit through the infield. Leskie starred in this respect and gathered in everything that came his way on short.

Next month the All Stars will play Millbrook. The latter is the team that scored a 5 to 4 win over the Schatz of Poughkeepsie.

The All Stars are playing their best ball at present and have won sixteen out of the twenty-two games. Any good out of town club wishing games, write John McCordie, 132 Wilbur avenue, or call 498-R.

TO CELEBRATE HUGENOT TRICENTENARY IN NEW YORK

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, July 25.—Bearing invitations to the King of Belgium, the Queen of Holland and the president of France to come to the United States next year to take part in the celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the settling at New York and other points of Walloons and Huguenots, Dr. Charles S. MacFarland, general secretary of the Federal Council of Churches, sailed for Europe yesterday.

Owing to the friendship of the three countries for America the committee in charge of the Huguenot-Walloon Tricentenary believe that the invitations will be accepted either in person or that official representatives will be sent.

Dr. MacFarland goes to Europe especially to attend during August three great church conferences at Copenhagen—the meeting of the World Alliance for International Friendship, the gathering of the continental church bodies to consider the state of the churches in Europe, and the meeting of the International Committee of the Universal Conference of the Churches of Christ on Life and Work.

Being a chaplain with the rank of major in the reserve corps of the army, Dr. MacFarland will visit the American cemeteries in France, conferring with the army chaplains in charge. A feature of his visit will be attendance at the celebration of the completion of the Protestant church and parish house at San Quentin. He laid the cornerstone for these buildings in 1920. They were the first public buildings on which reconstruction work was started in the Aisne region. Money for their construction came largely from Mrs. H. Boswell Bates of New York and the Commission on Churches in France and Belgium of the Federal Council of Churches.

Dr. MacFarland who has been designated as a friendly visitor to the churches of Europe by the Federal Council of Churches will also visit the American forces at Coblenz.

To Our Gas Customers

We have been able to furnish full and regular service to all of our customers during the coal strike, and recently during the railroad strike. It is of importance to our customers to know what provision has been made for their protection.

Anticipating your needs, and the difficulty that would be encountered in obtaining fuel, we have purchased and stored large amounts of coal since the early part of the year and although the coal strike has been in effect for fifteen weeks, we now have in storage in our various plants at least two months' supply of fuel.

Naturally, the general shortage of coal will have the effect of causing a greater use of gas for fuel, but you may feel assured that we are using every means available to obtain additional supplies of fuel so that we may continue to furnish adequate gas service throughout this crisis.

WEEKLY EARNINGS HIGHER IN JUNE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, July 25.—The average weekly earnings of employees in the manufacturing industries of New York state rose 38 cents from May to June, according to the statement issued today by Henry D. Sayer, the industrial commissioner. The gains reported during the month were due to the gradual return of many establishments to full time operations, and to the growing number of wage rate increases. The losses were the result of the usual summer reductions in working hours, especially the Saturday half holiday, and the increase in employment which is causing the replacement on the payrolls of many of the relatively lower paid workers who were released during the depression.

There was very little change in average earnings during the first six months of 1922, and the weekly average in June was $24.91, or exactly the same as that in December, 1921. But the character of the changes indicates that this really represents an improvement. The re-employment of workers formerly unemployed tends at first to depress average earnings, as the tendency at the beginning of the depression was for average earnings to rise at first, as the lower paid workers were released.

The largest increase in average earnings in June was that of $2.09 in the iron and steel mills, due to increased working time and several increases in wage rates. The establishments making structural and architectural iron reported increased earnings, especially those making railroad bridges. The increased employment in the plants making railroad equipment and railway repairs led to a slight decrease in average earnings in that industry because some of the plants had been shut down entirely and only the highly paid supervising force retained on the payrolls, and because some of the new employees were irregularly employed on account of coal strike. In the automobile factories also the addition of new employees, who receive somewhat lower wages, partly offset increases in the average earnings due to longer working time. There was an increase in earnings in the manufacture of cooking and heating apparatus, although some establishments reported summer reductions in working time. Part of the increase was due to an advance in wage rates. Both increased working time and some advance in wage rates accounted for the increased earnings in the machinery and electrical goods industry. The only important decrease in the metal industries was in shipbuilding.

The stone, clay and glass products plants reported the largest general increase of an group of industries. In the brick yards, increased working time, the settlement of the strike and many wage rate increases caused a substantial increase in earnings. Earnings rose in the pottery plants also. A large increase in earnings in the glass industry was due in part to the closing of some furnaces and the hiring of higher paid mechanics for repair work. Some of the cement and plaster mills granted increases in wage rates.

There was a small increase in average earnings in the saw and planing mills, which also benefit from the building situation. The other woodworking industries showed decreases, especially the manufacture of pianos. The earnings of employees making shoe lasts were reduced as a result of the strike in the Rochester shoe factories.

Average earnings rose in the paint factories from May to June. Among the drug, chemical and oil industries there was very little change. Earnings increased in the plants making rubber druggists' supplies.

The other large increases of the month were in the clothing industries. The men's clothing factories reported a seasonal gain of $1.87. There were slight increases in the men's furnishing establishments except in the manufacture of straw hats. Although the number of employees making women's clothing was greatly reduced in June, average earnings rose because more of the lower paid workers were released, and the supervising forces retained. In the millinery industry the increase in average earnings from the same cause amounted to $1.57. Earnings rose in the establishments making sheets.

The shoe factories recorded a gain in average earnings, although here also the partial resumption of activity in factories where the strike had left chiefly supervising and office employees in May caused earnings in those establishments to decline. Earnings in the leather industry also improved. In the making of leather bags and purses there were substantial increases. The manufacture of buttons also reported a gain. In the fur industry the settlement of a strike in the hatters' fur industry increased the proportion of lower paid workers and caused a reduction in average earnings.

Although employment in the food products industries made substantial gains average earnings rose only slightly. The addition of large numbers of workers irregularly employed at rates lower than those paid the permanent forces in the canning and fruit pressing industries caused substantial reductions in average earnings. These served to offset the gains due to increased working time in the flour and feed establishments, in meat packing, and in sugar refining. There was an increase in earnings in the cigar and cigarette factories. Increased working time caused earnings to rise in the breweries.

In the textile mills and in the pulp, paper products and printing industries there was very little change in average earnings.

THE OFFICE CAT

By Jackson

The optimist has a good time wherever he goes because he carries his good times with him.

All on the Payroll, But—
Factory Visitor—How many men work here?
Factory Owner—About half of them.

A man is paid for what he knows and he pays for that which he doesn't know.

To Some Extent.
"Have a cool summer. These thermometers won't register over eighty."
"But that's fooling yourself."
"Well, you fool yourself when you turn the clock back, don't you?"

A girl does not have to be pretty any more to attract the fellows if her father is a bootlegger.

Smarty Smithers.

Smarty Smithers bought an auto, and he started out to ride, with a registration number and a cigarette beside. And he climbed the hills and mountains in his phaeton each day, going down into the valley oftentimes upon his way. Smarty Smithers was a fellow who believed in driving fast, but he never had to worry in regard to fines at last, for his dad had lots of money and he paid them for his son; anytime 'twas necessary, he could pay another one! Smarty Smithers was delighted when he stepped upon the gas, heading off the other fellow, who was trying hard to pass! As his daddy owned the road, Smarty thought he owned the road, so he drove along the center, road-hog methods were his code! So the motorist behind him had to follow with delay, till he turned around the corner at the parting of the way. Smarty Smithers reined in, and he heard the whistle blowing there amid the smoke and din! He believed in taking chances, so he never stopped at all, till he reached the middle section, then, his reason why he's never driven from that day to this! You can ask the undertaker for a full analysis.

As long as man can dry her tears at the dry goods stores and pa can wet his whistle at a friendly bootlegger's all will be well.

Roadside Facilities.

Tourist—I say, my friend, can you direct me to the nearest filling station?

Native Son—"Well, that sorter depends. If ye want gas, there's a garage 'round that corner, but (confidentially) of yer hip-pocket flask needs fillin', I reckon I kin fix ye up myself, ef ye'll step over to the barn with me.

The Rev. Mr. Churchill will meet the officers and teachers of the M. E. Sunday school at the church on Wednesday evening.

About $3 was cleared for the Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church from the play given by Hurley talent last week.

A surprise reception in honor of his 21st birthday was tendered John L. Schoonmaker at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Schoonmaker Saturday evening with a host of intimate friends present. Host and guests had a glorious good time.

Miss Norma Warren of Kingston is visiting Miss Marion Schoonmaker.

Mrs. F. H. Henningsen is visiting Mrs. W. W. Voight.

The Farmers' Cooperative have received a car of egg boxes.

WOODSTOCK.

Woodstock, July 24.—The ladies of the Reformed Church will hold a food sale on the church porch on Tuesday, July 25, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The exterior of the Reformed Church is much improved after being painted and it is hoped the parsonage will soon be put in as good condition.

Our village is rapidly filling with city guests.

The rain of Sunday was much needed as wells and springs were very low.

There were no evening services in our village church Sunday on account of the heavy shower.

An Investment Opportunity at Home

Someone has said that electricity takes more brains to make and less brains to use than any other commodity or form of public service. The every day user of electric light or power, by simply pushing a button or turning a switch, has instantly at his disposal the services of a Thomas Edison, a Nicola Tesla, a Dr. Steinmetz, a George Westinghouse and a score of others representing the brains and genius of a half century of effort.

The business is growing rapidly. In the Central Hudson Valley the demand exceeds the facilities. To take care of present requirements and to make adequate provision for the future, there is being constructed a new and larger water power generating station at Rifton and an extension of the steel Tower Transmission System.

To finance this undertaking, First Mortgage 6% Gold Bonds are being offered with the approval of the Public Service Commission. The bonds have a valuable conversion privilege—on any interest date they may be exchanged for Cumulative Preferred Stock paying 7%.

At the rate the bonds are being subscribed for, the offering will soon be entirely absorbed. The bond represents an unusual investment opportunity. The public in the Central Hudson Valley have given prompt evidence of their confidence in this home enterprise.

BOOTS AT ALBANY WILL BE STAGED TONIGHT

Rain Forces Management to Postpone Open Air Show.

The open air boxing show of the Knickerbocker Athletic Club slated for Monday evening at Chadwick park was postponed until this evening. A heavy rain began to fall at 7 o'clock in Albany and the promoters decided to put off the entertainment until this evening.

A large number from the city traveled to Albany and were very much disappointed. Both Coffey and Seigel were there at the appointed hour and weighed in satisfactorily. Coffey is expected to do some light training in and around Albany this morning and the delay of one day is not expected to put him to a disadvantage.

WHY SAM HARRIS PICKS BENNY LEONARD TO WIN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, July 25.—A great race horse is great, primarily because his mental equipment is geared to clearer and quicker thinking, says Sam H. Harris, and forthwith picks Benny Leonard to beat Lew Tendler before the end of twelve no-decision rounds at Jersey City on Thursday night.

Mr. Harris has been out of the fight game for quite a few years and many a fatted calf has flashed in a Broadway chorus since he piloted Terry McGovern to a championship. He is now one of the foremost theatrical producers in the country but has kept in more or less immediate touch with affairs fistie. He hasn't missed a championship bout in years.

Leonard is his very definite choice in the impending bout. Speed, experience, the punch and that rather obsolete asset known as brains will prevail over Tendler's body attack, declares the theatrical magnate.

However, let Mr. Harris tell his own story. He tells it rather well. "Leonard, in my opinion, is the greatest lightweight since Gans was at his best," he informed the writer today. "Not only is he a wonderful puncher but he is speedy and is one of the smartest fighters that ever lived. He will know too much for Tendler."

"A great race horse is generally great because he thinks better than the rest of the field. It is for this reason that Leonard is champion today."

"His speed will keep him away from Tendler's left. A body puncher must get inside to do his work. Leonard will out-manuever him there and beat him to the punch."

"I admit," he continued, "that I haven't seen Tendler against many first class men but he never impressed me as being Leonard's equal. Tendler is a good puncher, is game and knows how to protect himself against ordinary men."

"The bout seems to be a question of Leonard's speed and straight punching versus Tendler's body attack. The combination of speed and the punch carries the day nine times out of ten. It should do so in this case."

The bout, he declared, was not likely to go the limit, adding that a pair of punchers such as Leonard and Tendler should produce a knock-out before the end of 12 rounds.

"It all depends on how fast they fight in the early rounds," he said. "Mr. Harris seemed much interested in the financial aspect of the enterprise and the assurance that the gate would run in the vicinity of $400,000 caused him to smile. "McGovern never got more than $15,000 for winning a fight," was his comment. "And yet, the present day fighter doesn't begin to compare with the old timer. Leonard and Dempsey are the only ones who could have stood up against the men in those days."

Tagging All the Bases.

The Giants lead the National League procession by the gossamer thread of mere circumstances. Their advantage over the Cardinals was cut to less than two per cent as the result of breaking even with the Pirates, 3 to 2 and 11 to 4. The Pittsburgh entry came home in front in the first game but Nehf scored his 12th straight victory over the Corsairs in the second.

Clarence Walker bobbed up with his twenty-fourth homer of the season in the midst of the Athletics' 4 to 2 victory over the Senators. The blow came at the expense of Erickson in the third inning. Facing Brillhart in the seventh, Walker was jobbed out of No. 23 when a bleacherite pushed the drive out of the stands.

Rushing madly to the ball park from the train and then rushing madly to the train from the ball park was the Yanks' performance of the day. In between rushes they lost an exhibition game to the Reds 5 to 3 in spite of Ruth's home run.

The Indians maintained a running bombardment of Urban Faber's delivery and beat the White Sox, 5 to 2. Any chance the Sox had of pulling out a decision over Corraleskie was ruined by Speaker, who made a diving catch of Hooper's line drive and doubled Collins off first base.

WILD MAN OF SHOKAN MAY BE A DOPE FIEND

Yvian Fletcher Sawyer, the West Indies negro who was brought to jail from Ashokan Sunday night by Sheriff Kolts, who was summoned as Sawyer was acting as if demented in that section, was taken to the Benedictine Hospital late Monday night. The Kingston City Hospital was called up first from the sheriff's office but it was stated that the hospital was then called up and in reply to the inquiry if admittance would be given the West Indian negro it was stated that although the public ward was full they would take in the man and place him in a private ward so that he could get proper attention. The police ambulance was then called and Sawyer conveyed to the Benedictine Hospital. The man was asleep all day Monday and continued so when taken from the court house about midnight. It is thought that he is a dope fiend although none of the narcotic. If he takes any, was found on his person. As he had been running around for some days with hardly anything to eat, he may be suffering with starvation.
